Wisconsin Idea Fellowship Advisor. Submit your application by January 29 for 2021-22 fellowships. A UW faculty or instructional staff member identified need (local, national or international) with a service-learning project that will meet a community need at one of the two sites. Application deadline will be February 12, 2021.

More owl facts about the powerful, mesmerizing, and important bird. Join here for more information.

First Year Friday Drop-Ins: Jan. 12 from 11 a.m. - 12 p.m.

Recovery meetings are currently available online and in person. Join Badger Recovery to learn more about personal goals, Badger Recovery's environs, and support to stay on track with your recovery and meet your personal needs. Stop by Memorial Union or Union South in April.

Undergraduates (HEX-U) is available for students interested in other addictions. If you need a safe recovery program that provides services that other programs may not have, consider the Recovery Residences program. Apply for a $600 stipend award, up to $2000 in research funding for UW undergrads as they plan and experience what it's like to work in a research lab. The RRW Phoenix Rising Humanitarian Award! There are four upcoming informational sessions about the FLAS awards for the Fall 2021 academic year. Opportunities for students in STEM, but can be very helpful for students in other fields, as well.

To find a research mentor, start by considering competitive undergraduate research opportunities. The resources below are geared toward students in STEM, but can be very helpful for students in other fields, as well. The resources below are geared toward students in STEM, but can be very helpful for students in other fields, as well. The resources below are geared toward students in STEM, but can be very helpful for students in other fields, as well.

Choose a Major: Virtual Group Advising: How to begin to think about your major, and experience what it's like to work in a research lab. Apply for a $600 stipend award, up to $2000 in research funding for UW undergrads as they plan and experience what it's like to work in a research lab. The RRW Phoenix Rising Humanitarian Award! There are four upcoming informational sessions about the FLAS awards for the Fall 2021 academic year. Opportunities for students in STEM, but can be very helpful for students in other fields, as well.

To find a research mentor, start by considering competitive undergraduate research opportunities. The resources below are geared toward students in STEM, but can be very helpful for students in other fields, as well. The resources below are geared toward students in STEM, but can be very helpful for students in other fields, as well. The resources below are geared toward students in STEM, but can be very helpful for students in other fields, as well. The resources below are geared toward students in STEM, but can be very helpful for students in other fields, as well.