Proctor and Gamble. They are seeking students who have experience in research and science. The deadline for applications is December 9.

Newman Civic Fellowship: This fellowship recognizes students who have demonstrated an investment in finding solutions to local and global challenges. The fellowship provides training and resources to serve as effective agents of change in their communities. Fellows receive learning opportunities, professional development, and support to carry out civic engagement projects. Applications are due by November 29.

Wisconsin Ideas Conference: This conference is an opportunity to connect with other students and professionals interested in social change. The conference will take place virtually on April 9, 2022. The University of Wisconsin-Madison and the National Civil Rights Movement are collaborating to present this conference. The conference will provide a platform for students to engage in discussions about social justice issues.

Are you experiencing food insecurity? Fill out this survey to help us better understand the needs of students. The Dean of Students Office and UHS are working together to provide food assistance to students.